

The ROFES device is intended to measure electrochemical conductivity and frequency components of active biological points using three methods to detect body's functional state. (up to 2500 functional and 70 psycho-emotional states).

At the same time, the system calculates the state of imbalance of all reflexology points along 14 main meridians (746 points in total).

In addition, software creates a virtual interactive acupuncture model with 746 points.

WHAT IS TESTED?

- ◆ Energy pathways (Meridians) that are disturbed or blocked
- ◆ Environmental stress
- ◆ Viral, bacterial and fungal stress
- ◆ Food intolerance
- ◆ Chemical additives intolerance
- ◆ Food and supplements compatibility check

Thousand Frequency Therapy

Monicor/ROFES

A comprehensive, effective, non-invasive and safe energy therapy that helps the body to rebalance its systems for improved health and well-being.

It addresses the body in a truly integrative, holistic way.

All materials are made of atoms, whether it is a type of food, a type of poison, a virus, a bacterium, an animal or a human being. Atoms are made of even smaller subatomic particles. Subatomic particles themselves behave like energy and radiate energy into their surroundings in specific patterns, called waves. It is possible to analyze the distinct wave patterns, or oscillations, of healthy functioning body parts as well as the oscillations of pathogens such as viruses, poisons and toxins.

If your body and organs are influenced by unhealthy vibrations, biochemical and metabolic misdirection and malfunction will occur, resulting in dysfunction and then disease. All of this creates stress points along the body meridians. Through Monicor/Rofes technology we identify these stress points and balance them in order to give to an imbalanced organ a chance to regenerate and create optimum environment for functioning of the organ associated with these stress points. The body is designed to heal itself and our therapies can assist in starting the healing process.

Over the past several decades research has shown that the electromagnetic profile of harmful substances can be cancelled out by sending corrective frequencies.. Sending healing resonance patterns to strengthen or negate the electromagnetic profile of a particular person is the basis for the Monicor/Rofes therapy, which has been used in Russia since the 1990s.

The energy patterns of your body may also be altered by a virus, poison, toxin, injury or even emotional injury. When you are sick, frequencies of the pathogens inside your body and energetic field can interfere with your healthy vibrational image. Sick organs do not vibrate harmoniously. Using Monicor software disharmonious patterns can be diminished. Healthy vibrations can be amplified for healing therefore restoring your body back to its natural healthy balance and improving immune system.

By assisting the immune system to get rid of bacterial, parasitic, fungal and viral stress the Monicor/ROFES can help the immune system recover to the most optimum functioning state.

The minimum time needed for the process of measurement (3-5 minutes) and much information obtained from each meridian point through spectrum characteristics analysis (75 frequencies from 24 points=1800 frequency characteritics) allows to compete with the Voll method (time of measurement - from 30 up to 50 minutes) which is known for its high clinical reliability of the results.
